The Clubhouse, which is located within Peet Limited's Lattitude Lakelands development in Mandurah, has been opened to provide residents with a variety of modern services and facilities such as a relaxed café/lounge area, sports bar, cinema, and library/computer room.

Future plans for the next stage of the Clubhouse include an indoor/outdoor lap pool, gymnasium, practise bowling green, function room, arts and crafts room and residents workshop.

A large crowd of residents, potential residents and their families watched as City of Mandurah Mayor Paddi Creevey officially opened the Clubhouse, unveiling a specially designed plaque to commemorate the occasion.

Peet Limited Managing Director and CEO Brendan Gore said the opening of the Clubhouse was a key milestone for Lattitude Lakelands.

"The Clubhouse at Lattitude Lakelands provides residents with quality lifestyle services and amenities, and the chance to join an active and growing community," Mr Gore said.

"We recognise that many people in this age group are looking for a new style of living, and we have created Lattitude to offer real lifestyle choices, security and comfort while allowing residents to downsize and be part of a vibrant and active community."

Located on the Perth-side of Mandurah, the 194-villa Lattitude Lakelands development offers architecturally appealing and individual homes.

The homes are affordably priced from $335,000 to $450,000 and offer comfortable stylish living with a dedicated parking area also provided for residents who own boats or caravans.

There is also excellent access to shops, transport and amenities and Mandurah's renowned fishing, boating and recreational areas are all nearby.

There are a number of villas still available in Stage 1 of Lattitude Lakelands. And for a glimpse of the Lattitude lifestyle, visit the Carrick display home located on Bellambi Chase, Lakelands. This three-bedroom, two-bathroom home boasts 110sqm of living space and is open every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday from midday to 4pm.
